You can pay using a credit card or your IZLY account (see below). Most of the RUs in Nancy won't accept cash.

IZLY account

Your IZLY account : It allows you to pay for your meals at the RU. You have to create it after you receive an email asking you to create your account.

With the help of your temporary password given in the validation email, you'll be able to access your online account in a few steps.

To take full advantage of all the services that come with your IZLY account, you can download the dedicated application from the App store, Google Play or Windows Phone Store.

How to re-load your account:

On the application or website homepage, look for the « recharger » section: here you can re-load money onto your account.

How to pay for your meal:

In order to pay with your mobile phone, open your application, select “payer”, create a QR code, and put it in front of the cash desk optical code reader at the university canteen.

NB : Unlike other student cards, AgroParisTech student card won't allow you to pay with your IZLY account , therefore you are obliged to use the cell phone application.
